

THE CORDILLERAS MOUNTAIN RANGE:

NATURAL ENVIRONMENT

The Ground: The Cordilleras are the huge mountains of Western Canada. They were created thousands of years ago. They include the Rocky Mountains. They form the border between BC and Alberta. They are a great tourist attraction with national parks and ski resorts.

The Climate: This mountain range also affects the weather. In Canada winds go from West to East (left to right on your map).

